German Girl Betrays Lover for Bribe of 10,000 Francs

Olga von Marx, who calls herself Germany's greatest woman spy, describes in to-day's Times-Dispatch how she went to the German fiscal agent in Paris to ask for 20,000 francs with which to brile the German girl who was the mistress of the American Inventor whom Fraulien von Marx had been sent to Paris to rob. The representative of Germany told the spy that the money she asked for was too much, and that 10,000 francs would be enough to bribe the German girl to turn against her lover. She necepted the lower figure and departed to see what she could do with it, as told in to-day's installment of the story.

Denies Submarines Off New England

Rear Admiral Declares Investigation Revealed No Periscope but Mast on Burned Ship.

[By Associated Press.] BOSTON, June 8 .- Rear-Admiral Speneer S. Wood, commandant of the first naval district, declared to-day there had been no evidence of submarine activity along the New England coast. Investigation of a report by a fisherman near Portland that he had seen the periscope of a submarine, showed, Admiral Wood sald, that it was the mast of a small schooner, abandoned and burned. The captain of a steamer about the same time reported sighting a craft low in the water, and, pending word from scout patrols sent out to investigate vessels, it was explained were held up temporarily. All were permitted to proceed, it was stated, after it was found that no submarines had been sighted.
